What is the Clean Energy Your Way – Flexible Option?

Clean Energy Your Way – Flexible Option is a voluntary program that allows Idaho Power customers to match their electricity use with renewable resources. Participating customers are using renewable solar and wind energy.

How will I be billed for my Clean Energy Your Way – Flexible Option purchase?

Your Clean Energy Your Way – Flexible Option charge will be listed as a separate line item on your monthly Idaho Power bill. The charge is in addition to your regular bill.

How will the Clean Energy Your Way – Flexible Option charge be calculated?

Block Option: $1.00 per block of 100 kilowatt-hours of renewable energy

100% Option: 1¢ per 1 kilowatt-hour to match your "kWh used" from your monthly bill

Will the Clean Energy Your Way – Flexible Option rate change over time?

Clean Energy Your Way – Flexible Option rates are based on current public utility commission (PUC) tariffs. Pricing is subject to change. All rate changes require approval of the Idaho and Oregon PUC. Customers will be notified of any price change in advance through customer communications.

What is the required contract length?

The contract is month to month. You can change or cancel your enrollment at any time.

How do I change or cancel my participation?

You may change or cancel your participation at any time with no fee.

Will my purchase be tax deductible?

Participants in the Clean Energy Your Way – Flexible Option make a physical purchase from an operating business; therefore, purchases are not tax deductible.

Does Idaho Power make a profit on the program?

Idaho Power does not make a profit from the program. Idaho Power uses the funds collected through the Clean Energy Your Way – Flexible Option to purchase renewable energy for the region's power grid. For each dollar purchased, 100 kWh of renewable energy is delivered to the grid. A portion of funds is used to support outreach and education to grow the program and for Solar 4R Schools.

What is Solar 4R Schools?

Solar 4R Schools is a grant program that educates students, teachers and the community about the science behind renewable energy technologies. The program provides hands-on activity guides, science kits and a small solar array at no cost to schools through a competitive award process. A portion of Clean Energy Your Way – Flexible Option funds are used to sponsor schools in our service area.
